

Gurvinder “Sunny” Uppal

I wear many hats – I am a husband, a father of three, a physician, and a farmer. I am a pistachio grower in Wasco.

I have sat on many policy making boards ranging from not-for-profit foundations, to health plans, and hospitals. I would like to bring my logic and reasoning to serve my fellow pistachio growers. The stated ACP’s purpose is “not to market or promote pistachios...our marketing policy is a simple and brief review of the global pistachio market and does not serve the basis of other activities.”

Because of this policy, an ideal board member must represent and voice the concerns of the pistachio growers he or she represents. Therefore, I am requesting your vote to serve on the board of our ACP. I will work hard with the staff and ensure the concerned voices of our local pistachio growers are heard by the policy makers of our crops. I will accomplish this through hard work, dedication, and honesty.
